

Step by Step Psychology: Where Passion meets Purpose

If you would to be part of a team of driven psychologists, superstar administration and supportive management, then this is the role for you. With a focus on development, in house training and collegiality, Step by Step Psychology offers a supported entry into private practice.

What type of workplace is Step by Step Psychology?

Our psychologists believe that by engaging children and young people, we have a unique opportunity to equip them with the skills for lifelong wellbeing.

Change for one client has a knock of effect to positively impact so many more people in that young person's life.

We prioritise building strong connections within our team and community to foster a sense of belonging. We currently have the opportunity for Psychologists to join our team in either part time or full-time capacities and have children and adolescents waiting for you to form part of their support team.

We offer a tailored caseload within a psychology-specific practice, allowing you to see clients which fulfil you as a clinician. With all work completed within work hours and the opportunity for a hybrid role (clinic and remote), our psychologists find that the balance between work and home is well maintained. Supervision and support from colleagues and the leadership team, as well as a large variety of resources at their fingertips, enables our psychologists to be the best they can for their clients.

Growth and development is highly valued at Step by Step Psychology and as such we offer the opportunity for external and internal professional development, regular clinical supervision, Educational and Developmental Psychology endorsement supervision, peer supervision and much more.

We love when our psychologists find a project which inspires them and we encourage contribution of ideas to our services and programs so that they have the opportunity to engage in their areas of interest within the workplace.

Based in Blackburn and Nunawading, Step by Step Psychology has been meeting the psychology needs of our community since 2014. While we are a well-established business, we regularly review our systems and processes to ensure that we continue to meet the needs of not only our community, but our wonderful team members.

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for a psychologist who is interested in working with children and adolescents, with a variety of presentations. We have a neurodiverse caseload, with both neurotypical and neurodivergent clients presenting anxiety, mood challenges, school difficulties and needing emotional regulation support. We also conduct a range of formal assessments. While we offer training and supervision, a psychologist who has experience in working with a similar caseload will be highly valued.

A psychologist who sees the value in supporting and learning from others would thrive in our team.

Don't miss this opportunity to make a difference and to be part of a team which recognises the challenges and competing priorities of working in mental health and is there to support and guide you. Apply now and let your passion meet your purpose at Step by Step Psychology.

For more information and to obtain a position description, please feel free to email our Director, Hayley Jennings at hayley@stepbystepppsychology.com.au